DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Claims 1-9 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR

1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on March 09, 2007.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 10-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

Claim 10 is recited, inter alia, if the TFCI value is a valid index of the TFCS, then using the TFCI value obtained in said decoding step and ending the method; and if the TFCI value is not a valid index of the TFCS, then selecting a valid TFCI value and using the selected TFCI value. The Applicant is reminded that it is the Examiner's position to consider and interpret each and every word recited within claim. Since the term "and" is recited between the two "if" statements, and it is required to consider both of these conditions. Therefore, it is impossible or illogical to have both conditions to be met or executed at the same time because if the TFCI value is valid, then a function or an operation is performed, where as, if the TFCI value is not valid, then different function or different operation is performed.

Claims 11-14 are also rejected for the same reasons set forth above because these claims depend either directly or indirectly on independent claim 10.

Thus, in response to this office action, the Examiner suggests the Applicant to amend claim language to clarify the Applicant's intention.

Drawings

The drawings were received on July 29, 2003. These drawings are acceptable.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim 10 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Yano et al. (hereinafter "Yano", US 6,615,386).

Regarding claim 10, Yano discloses a method for obtaining a transport format combination indicator (TFCI) value, comprising the steps of:

- collecting received samples (i.e., to receive signals);
- processing the received samples to obtain soft TFCI symbols (col. 8, lines 27-30);
- decoding the soft TFCI symbols to obtain a TFCI value (col. 10, lines 13-30);
- evaluating the TFCI value to determine if it is a valid index of a transport format combination set (TFCS) (col. 11, lines 57-59);
- if the TFCI value is a valid index of the TFCS, then using the TFCI value obtained in said decoding step and ending the method; and if the TFCI value is not a valid index of the TFCS, then selecting a valid TFCI value and using the selected TFCI value (col. 11, lines 11-22; col. 12, lines 51-63).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 11-14 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
